Now, more than ever we need strong, accountable leadership in doing difficult things and in all cases the right thing. You are already paying for the highest level of productivity. What is stopping you from getting it?

Accountability, as defined for this program, includes:

- * Doing what you said you would do
- * As you said you would do it
- * When you said you would do it

Participants will learn how to have on-time completion of crucial projects, become skilled in creating shorter and more effective meetings, and learn how to utilize systems already in place to get the most important things done every day! Join us for this program as Mike Scott, Certified Accountability Expert, provides participants with the "10 Keys to Creating a Totally Accountable Work Environment." Participants will leave with a complete, step-by-step success plan!
